

WALLS BLOWN DOWN; 2 DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The side wall of a brewery at Eighth and Harrison streets was blown over during a heavy wind storm today, burying two laborers who were caught under tons of masonry. The injured workmen, Santo Matos and

Jesus Reyes, are so badly injured that it is believed they cannot recover. Several workmen were engaged in removing debris left by the fire from beneath the wall, and when a warning was given that the wall was dangerous all left work with the exception of Matos and Reyes. The companions of the buried workmen shouted for help and a volunteer crew was soon at work removing the pile of fallen bricks. It was found that Reyes, who was dug out first, had both legs broken, a fractured skull and several ribs crushed. Despite the fact that the rescuers worked to their utmost, they were half an hour in reaching Matos, who retained consciousness. His pitiful cries for help inspired his fellow workmen to efforts that were almost superhuman. Matos also sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries. The injured men were removed to the Central emergency hospital, where their condition is reported to be extremely critical.

MAYOR SCHMITZ DUE IN NEW YORK TO-DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco, who has been indicted in that city for extortion and who sailed from Hamburg on November 10 on the Patricia, will probably arrive here late this afternoon. It is said that out of consideration for Mrs. Schmitz, who is traveling with her husband, Francis J. Heney and District Attorney Langdon of San Francisco will spare the mayor the humiliation of arrest on his arrival. Schmitz does not know that he has been indicted, the findings of the Grand Jury having been made while the Patricia was in mid-ocean. As the Patricia is not equipped with wireless telegraph, the first news Schmitz will have of his indictment will probably be from the newspapers taken aboard the steamer by the pilot at Sandy Hook. While it is not known what the mayor may do when he learns that he is charged with felony by the Grand Jury, it is generally believed that he will waive extradition and go at once to his home city.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The grand jury resumed its inquiry this morning into the charge that Abraham Ruef performed extortion, before the fire, on an O'Farrell street amusement and drinking place. A number of witnesses were present for examination. Peter Duffy, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of perjury preferred against him by the grand jury, had not succeeded, up to noon today, in securing bondsmen for his release. He spent the morning in the custody of a deputy sheriff endeavoring to secure the $5000 bonds and $2500 cash necessary to keep him out of jail.

DR. VOORSANGER PRAISES CHARACTER OF SCHMITZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Rev. Dr. Voorsanger, rabbi of the Temple Emmanuel in San Francisco, will sail today on the Amerika for a year's rest in Europe. In discussing last night the stories of graft in San Francisco, Dr. Voorsanger said: "I cannot in fairness discuss the justice of these charges of graft, for my work is not in the political field, and I personally know nothing of the truth or falsity of these stories. But this I do know: Mayor Schmitz personally is of the most estimable character. He is a devoted husband and father. His home life is of the most beautiful character. And Ruef—he is a graduate of the University of California, a young man of great ability, who had some wealth before he entered political life. He is of the cleanest life personally. "Why is it that here in the East we hear on all sides stories of graft and political corruption of every character set in San Francisco stories more lurid than we at home ever hear, but you Easterners never heard a word or tell a word of the struggles of our city against monumental difficulties to rebuild herself and take her place again among the fair ones of the earth. You hear nothing of our beavers working underground day and night—to put up buildings and erect houses where we may lay our heads. Why is it that every breath of dirty scandal gets here but none of the good of which we have so large a part? Is it just the looseness or thoughtlessness of modern views? Such things are doing San Francisco an irreparable injury. They are discouraging eastern capital from going there to help us in our great task. They are making our lot doubly hard at this time."

BRIBERY! Is Alleged in McNulty Case

"I will prepare my evidence as soon as possible and will investigate the bribery charges preferred against the McNulty jury. I am thoroughly disgusted with the verdict of last night and will do all in my power to sift this matter to the bottom," says District Attorney Brown.

DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY EVERETT BROWN, who says he has evidence that the jury in the McNulty case was influenced in returning a verdict of not guilty.

LESTER McNULTY, who was last night, after three trials, found not guilty of having made a felonious attack on Miss Dorothy Olsen.

Attorney Erick, who has defended McNulty through three long trials and who denies the charge that the jury was in any way bribed.

Weeping bitterly, W. J. Dryden, one of the jurors upon whose decision depended the liberty or incarceration of Lester McNulty, entered the office of District Attorney Brown today and begged the attorney to shake hands with him. The lawyer assented and the penitent juror, still shedding tears, reviled the remainder of the jury for the treatment they submitted him to in the long trial.
Still weeping, Dryden said: "Mr. Brown, please be friends with me; I know it was not right. I condemn myself. I held out to the last. The rest of the jurors abused me and even were cruel enough to drag my wife into it. I know McNulty is guilty, and I told his father so when he attempted to shake hands with me after we gave our verdict. I said to him in the hearing of bystanders, 'Your son is guilty.'"
Before leaving the office of the District Attorney, Dryden further declared that he was ill when the jury retired and that bodily weakness was the principal cause of his action. "I could not withstand their treatment of me," he said, "and finally gave way."
*****
Lester C. McNulty was last night acquitted by the third jury to try him for an attack on Dorothy Olsen more than a year ago at Berkeley.
With the verdict returned by the jury, District Attorney Everett Brown says he has strong suspicions that influence was used to sway the verdict, and that the matter will be investigated to a finish and if the District Attorney's office gathers such evidence that will indict any or all of the jury, action will be taken.
The rumor has been circulated with the previous failures to convict McNulty that bribes were tendered the men who occupied the jury box, but no proof was in evidence.
WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION.
To a Tribune reporter he said: "I have heard of bribery charges against the McNulty jury, and I intend to make a thorough investigation. Nothing will be left unturned to bring these suspicions and rumors to light. The letter I received from Swain is self-explanatory. He can make what he likes of it. I do not say that is the evidence I am going to use in my investigation, but I have heard of other happenings. No time will be lost in arraignment of the case."
While the reporter was in the office of the District Attorney, D. W. Swain, foreman of the McNulty jury was without, seeking an interview with the official, which was not granted.
VERDICT "NOT GUILTY" RETURNED.
It was eight o'clock last evening, after four hours of deliberation, that

EUGENE E. SCHMITZ, mayor of San Francisco, who is expected in New York late this afternoon, being on his way home from Europe, to defend himself from charges made before the grand jury.

COLD BLASTS FROM NORTH RENDER LIFE MISERABLE

Shipping Endangered and Timid Folk Live in Fear Their Homes May Collapse.

Everybody held onto their hats today. The blustering north wind was the cause of all the trouble, and various estimates were being made as to its velocity. It is said that the wind was going at a rate of fifty miles an hour, and the dust-covered pedestrians bear good evidence of the struggle against the fierce blow.
Contrary to precedent, the wind was not warm, but bore a cold finger, which penetrated the clothing, making life out of doors most disagreeable.
It is thought that the blow is the advance agent of an eastern snowstorm.
Fences and windmills, not to speak of windows, are suffering as a result of the severe bluster, and timid residents are fearing homes may collapse. Whenever the fire bells ring everybody hopes that the call is a false one, as a lively blaze might result in a wide-spreading conflagration. But two alarms were turned in today, and these proved to be but incipient fires, the result of defective stoves.
Navigation on the bay has been somewhat impeded, but no mishap has resulted as yet. Small boats are being torn from their moorings and thrown upon the shore, and the larger vessels are dragging their anchors.
Progress about the street has been slow and difficult, and policemen have been busy escorting ladies across the street corners.
District Attorney Everett Brown, stood in front of the bench and expected a verdict of guilty. He has worked vigorously during the three trials in behalf of Miss Olsen, who nervously crying the twelve jurors

STATE PLACED IN DILEMMA THROUGH COLGAN'S DEATH

Situation Without Parallel in California Has Developed Through Death of State Comptroller Colgan.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 22.—A situation without a parallel in this State has developed since the death of State Comptroller E. P. Colgan. The consensus of opinion is that Governor Pardee has the power to appoint his successor, not only for Colgan's unexpired term, but for the new term of four years to which he was elected November 8, but it is admitted that several nice questions are involved. Although Colgan was re-elected by a tremendous majority, the Secretary of State is awaiting the official returns from at least thirty of the counties. Until these returns are all in he cannot certify to the election of Colgan to the governor, as the law requires and the governor cannot issue a certificate of election, when the certificate of election is issued the party will have ten days in which to qualify, but in the present case there can be no such qualification because of Colgan's death.

MARKLEY MAY STEP IN.

This leaves the matter open for a demand from his Democratic opponent, John Markley, that the certificate of election be issued to him as the man receiving the next largest number of votes. If such a demand could be made, Markley certainly would be the State Comptroller, despite any appointment Governor Pardee may make. But it is contended that the Supreme Court has in a Southern California case involving county office established the principle that to give an office to the man receiving the second largest vote, because of the death or disqualification of the man receiving the highest vote, would be a fraud upon the people and contrary to their decision as expressed at the polls.

While Governor Pardee declines to discuss the subject, it is known that he is satisfied that the appointment of Colgan's successor rests entirely with him. There is no dispute on the point that it is his duty to appoint for the unexpired term. Most lawyers assert that this appointment will hold until a successor is regularly elected and qualified, which would be in January, 1921. But if it should hold only until the expiration of the present unfinished term—Monday, January 7—Governor Pardee would only need to renew his appointment on that date.

NYE AND MOULTON NAMED.

The Legislature will not canvass the vote or declare Gillett governor before Wednesday, January 9, and between the 7th and 9th Pardee will remain governor and will have full power to make appointments and transact other official business. If he has any doubt as to the validity of the appointment he makes now he can renew it after the present unfinished term of the Comptroller ends and before he quits the office of governor.

It is believed the governor wishes to make sure of his appointment. The only person thus far mentioned in connection with the office are D. A. Moulton, Colgan's chief deputy, and A. B. Nye, the governor's private secretary. Nye has been a strong man in the Governor's administration, and while neither he nor the governor has mentioned the subject, it is thought here that he is the logical man for the place if he wants it.

CONTRACTOR IS DISMISSED

Charles Roeth Is Declared by Court to be Not Guilty of Violating Ordinance.

Contractor Charles Roeth was found not guilty this morning in department one of the police court of a charge of violating the city building ordinance. Roeth was accused by residents in the vicinity of Eleth and Piedmont avenues, of having moved several little shacks onto a lot near them without first securing a permit. Roeth and his men moved on wagons during the early hours of the morning from Fourth and Webster streets. When the residents of Eleth and Piedmont avenues awoke, they discovered that new houses had dropped down next to them during the night. They protested to the Board of Public Works, claiming that the buildings were unsightly and that Roeth had not obtained a permit to move them.

It was at one of the meetings of this body that Mayor Mott asserted that Roeth should be put behind prison bars if he did not obey the provisions of the city ordinance. Roeth published a retort to this remark, which caused a mild sensation at the time.

During the trial this morning the protesting residents gave their testimony, but it was not proved that Roeth owned or had anything to do with the buildings in question, and the case was dismissed on these grounds by Police Judge Smith.

MAHOUTS KEEP POLICE BUSY

Department Conducting Active Crusade Against Autoists Who Travel Too Fast.

The police are carrying on another crusade against autoists who exceed the speed limit and who fail to carry their registered numbers and as a result several were placed under arrest last night.

A fatality complaint saved Dr. E. A. Von Adelung a possible fine for not having his number on his machine. The complaint, issued by Prosecuting Attorney Lewis, was that the doctor used the word "number" and Police Judge Samuels dismissed the case.

Dr. Paul Lanz was rushing down Telegraph avenue when he was stopped by Police Judge Samuels. He was charged with exceeding the speed limit. This morning he appeared in department two of the police court and was fined two dollars by Police Judge Samuels. Dr. Lanz admitted that he was "going pretty fast," but explained that he was hurrying to the bedside of a patient. Judge Samuels advised that physicians hereafter display a placard on their machines announcing "I am a physician. Do not stop me!"

Williams Jeffers and B. De Balrod also arrested for exceeding the speed limit, forfeited their bail at $10 each. Judgment was suspended on George A. Chapman.

"SUICIDE" IS IN OAKLAND

REDDING, Nov. 22.—The N. W. Cogswell known in Redding who worked for the McCormick Sackler Company in Oakland, is at 1216 Castro street.

This clears part of the mystery and is particularly pleasing to Cogswell's friends in Redding. He evidently had a double, however, and it may have been the latter who jumped from the Sacramento bridge.

Lots of fellows who watch the clock as they work wonder why they never climb to the top round of the ladder of success.

You know there are a lot of people in this world who can't take a hint and as I am ho kicker they are in no danger but every day from now until plim pudding morning which comes on December 24, I am going to throw out a hint as to about what a boy would like for a Christmas present. Oh, dear me, the only thing as worries me is what some poor little boys I know won't get—why can't rich people make more poor people happy. Why, I see folks most every day spend money for things, that if they only spent one-half of the amount and helped some poor, deserving person with the rest of it they would be happier in this world and have a stronger clench on the next. If I had money I would like to just go in our juvenile department and buy up all the good warm Overcoats, Suits, Knee Pants, Caps and Underwear and I would go and get a wagon and put them in it and start out making boys happy. Gee, I'll bet I land on a county farm yet and will be one of these old men that hobble around and have people point me out as the man who gave every cent he made to the poor and now he is in the cabbage patch himself.

BRIBERY IN McNULTY CASE

Attorney Brown Declares That He Has the Evidence of it Being Done.

was formerly a domestic in the residence of J. H. Marshall, a Berkeley contractor.

The court asked if the jurors had reached a verdict, and they answered in the affirmative. The courtroom was quiet, and hardly a breath was drawn as Foreman Swain read the document and pronounced "not guilty."

DISGUSTED WITH JURY.

District Attorney Brown said to the jury with utter disgust, "I am sorry, indeed, that you men can enter a court of justice and render such a verdict after such evidence was introduced."

McNulty, who was overjoyed with the verdict, took exception to the District Attorney's remarks and uttered a vulgar exclamation.

"Such language coming from a man of your type, I am not surprised at," retorted Brown.

CONGRATULATES JURY.

Lester McNulty stepped back and received hearty handshakes from a few personal friends, then he rushed to the jury and grasped the hand of each man and thanked him personally for freeing him. The other McNultys, father and brother, also thanked the jurors for their work in cleansing the name of the McNulty family.

REFUSES TO SHAKE HANDS.

W. D. Dryden, one of the jurors, as he passed from the room, extended his hand to District Attorney Brown. The latter refused to have anything to do with the juror, saying, "Never mind, I don't care to speak to such a man. Your explanations are not necessary."

Last night, before leaving the court, Brown said money had been used to influence the jury.

Attorney Erick, for the defense, did not like the statements made by the man who handled the prosecution and showed dissatisfaction at the charges.

WORDS WITH SWAIN.

David Swain, foreman of the jury and an ex-policeman, came face to face with the District Attorney as he left the courtroom.

Brown remarked, "I suppose that if I had given you that $150 there would have been a different verdict. Swain passed out saying nothing, leaving the indignant District Attorney to himself."

SENDS NEWS HOME.

McNulty, after greeting his friends and jurors in the court room, hastened to the telephone and told the news to his mother at home.

SWAIN'S LETTER.

The letter received by District Attorney Brown from ex-policeman and jury foreman Daniel W. Swain, came to hand while the latter was sitting on the jury hearing the evidence submitted before that body to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Brown at this time was fighting strenuously on the prosecution, and doing all in his efforts to prove to the twelve white-haired jurors that the alleged crime was committed by the defendant, and that it lay in the hands of these twelve jurists, of which D. W. Swain was foreman, to render a verdict as they could conscientiously from the evidence submitted. The campaign for the November election was raging, and Foreman Swain dropped a line to the prosecuting attorney, asking for a small favor to swing the votes which the gray-haired political boss promised to throw his (Brown's) way.

The following self-explanatory letter was handed to the newspapers by District Attorney Brown:

TEXT OF LETTER.

"Oakland, Cal., Oct. 27, 1906.

"Friend Mr. Brown: I will drop you a few lines to let you know what I can do for you if you will help me a little. I can do more for you than you think. I can handle the negro in West Oakland. They are building a new county jail and there will be a great many men to work on it about election time, and I am uncle to the man that is building it. He says he will do all for me that I want. I did not like to speak to you on the street, for it would not look well on account of that case. Now, Mr. Brown, I do not want to beg anything. When I went out of the police department there was a little patch on my home, but I think I will come out all right with a little help. I have got to meet the small amount on Tuesday. It is $750. I have got $600 on hand. I think what I can do for you will amount to a great deal. Yours truly,

"D. W. SWAIN."

The above letter Brown has in his office in Swain's handwriting, and showed it this morning.

SWAIN MAKES STATEMENT.

D. W. Swain was met at the head of the stairs leading to the office of the District Attorney. He seemed quite put out about the statement concerning the bribery charges. He did not like the manner in which the allegations are made toward him or the other members of the jury.

The following words were dictated to the representatives of the press by Foreman Swain:

"I wrote the letter that Mr. Brown referred to yesterday. I had some colored friends in West Oakland, who had spoken to me that they ought to have a little money through this campaign. They said: 'How is Mr. Brown, who is running for District Attorney?' I said I thought that he would put up something, and that is the reason that I wrote him that letter."

"I never received any answer, but I went over to the market at the Key Route station at Piedmont. I ordered meat; I got on a Piedmont car coming towards Oakland; Mr. Brown got on the same car; he says, 'Good morning,' and I says 'Good morning.' He had a stack of postal cards five inches high which he was sending through the county. I never

Propose, Commencing Sunday, December 2nd

To Close all their Drug Stores on Sundays

except between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m.

A registered pharmacist, however, to be on hand at all hours (day or night) to fill prescriptions or really urgent needs.

Our plan is for "better hours for our drug clerks." But our first aim and duty is to serve our patrons when sick or in urgent need of drug store goods. We have evidenced this for years by maintaining a night clerk service, though it meant a constant pecuniary loss to us, and if we cannot make the move we contemplate and serve you well, we should like to have you say so, frankly, on the coupon we have prepared below.

WE WANT YOU TO MAKE THE DECISION FOR US.

We shall value your opinion and appreciate your courtesy in replying.

WHY WE PROPOSE TO CLOSE:

Since time immemorial drug stores have kept open from early morning till nearly midnight, week days, Sundays, holidays and all; and though conditions have been bettered in almost every other line, in ours the late night and Sunday work remains, and no hours off at other times will exactly compensate for the steady grind when all other people are at rest or recreation.

One day off in seven does not satisfy if that one day be not Sunday.

We have been making week-day compensation for Sunday work. We want to offer something better now in addition.

We want all of our employees—there are nearly a hundred of them—over fifty in our main (Thirteenth and Broadway) store alone, to have a chance to see their friends and families in their homes, when they are at leisure—or to go to church if they desire. We think it will make for better pharmacy, for better living—for a better city, and particularly just at this time when a most intense commercialism makes us prone to forget just such needs.

The move we now contemplate will mean a loss to us—a very heavy loss unless our patrons, having approved of it, accord their substantial support to us.

We are willing to make the move, however, if you can adapt your needs to it, and give it your approval.

Fill out the following coupon and hand it to one of our clerks or mail direct to us if you prefer.

N. B.—Insert the word "not" after "I do" if you do not approve the plan.

TO BOWMAN & CO. DRUGGISTS:

I do ..... approve your "Better Hours for Drug Clerks" plan, whereby you contemplate to close your stores on Sundays, except between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., and to make deliveries of orders received only between those hours.

SENSATION SPRUNG BY THIS WOMAN

ber of camera men.

There was a long delay in opening the case.

After waiting half an hour Caruso began to display nervousness.

A sensation was created immediately upon the resumption of the hearing.

A woman was called to confront Caruso, and he was asked if it was not a fact that he had annoyed the woman at the Metropolitan House on February 4 last, at a performance of "Parasol." Caruso said he had not annoyed the woman.

Deputy Police Commissioner Mathol then asked Caruso if it was not true that he had acted in an indecent manner toward several women at the New York House Show.

Caruso's counsel protested against these questions, and said that the allegations should not be made unless the women concerned in the various cases be produced.

No decision was reached in the case today. The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

NEW-BORN BABE IN SECRET GROVE

Back yard at 1135. Respectfully,

C. E. DAVIS.

1140 Sanson avenue.

Upon the receipt of the communication was turned over to the police, and Chief of Police Wilson detailed detectives to investigate the allegations contained in it. The authorities think that it may be discovered that murder was committed and the remains of the little babe were buried immediately in order to conceal the crime.

mentioned letter to him at all. He says, "Mr. Swain, I received your letter and it will be impossible for me to do anything, for I have to borrow money myself to run my campaign."

"I don't know where Mr. Brown lives, and the only time there was ever anything said about the letter was as I have stated."

"There is absolutely nothing else about the whole matter. I have no suspicion that any man on the jury received any money from any source for his vote in the McNulty case. That's all I have got to say."

In speaking to THE TRIBUNE reporter in the court house after he made the above statement, Mr. Swain said that he has been a resident of Oakland for the past forty years and never was implicated in such an affair before. He said he never before was whipped and it took a pretty good man to beat him out this time, as he would not take a whipping from anybody.

REITERATES LETTER.

"I did not want the money for myself," said Swain. "I intended to use it for the negro voters in West Oakland."

He probably could not recall the statement of his letter to Brown, for he said nothing was mentioned concerning the McNulty case, and furthermore he did not solicit the money for personal needs or obligations.

When a few lines of the correspondence was mentioned to the ex-policeman he said the statement about the balance of $150 he needed to make good the debt on his home, was merely to frame up a well-shaped petition for the money, so it would be more likely to produce the long green.

NEVER HEARD OF BRIBERY.

"I positively state that I never heard of any money offered the jury to influence their verdict in the McNulty case, and where more I was never approached by anyone concerning what my opinion would be in the jury room. I never had a word with any of the McNultys. The only time I saw them was to pass them coming and going to the court room, and while they were in court. No, I never knew the McNultys, nor the accused himself while he worked in the office of Judge Harris."

"Of course it may seem strange to the public that the jury will not tell how they stood and how many counts were taken before they obtained a verdict, but I think that when a man takes oath not to reveal what is said in the jury room, it should not be known outside of these four walls."

He would not state whether more than one count was taken or not. When asked if he had heard of the rumors to the effect that he was implicated in the bribery charges, he said they were news to him until the statement made by Brown last night in the court room.

Not even had he heard about the scandal attached to the previous McNulty jury. It all appeared to be strange matter to him, and he could not surmise what foundations the District Attorney had to strike his charges with.

The first and second trials resulted in disagreements of the jurors and scandal was attached to one because of one of the jurymen using his efforts to induce the jury to agree to a verdict of simple assault for which the law quotes a fine of $1000. He expressed a desire to have such judgment brought against McNulty. A law book was found in the jury room from which the jurymen intended to read.

ELDERLY MEN ON JURY.

Both former jurors were made up of young and middle-aged men, but the third body of twelve men were further along in the experience of life's walk.

The following men sat on the third trial of Lester C. McNulty and rendered the verdict of "not guilty": H. Lefman, Chris Cahill, Thomas Hearn, J. B. Fay, H. E. Harwood, D. W. Swain, James Davis, W. E. Dryden, Benjamin Crandall and Eugene Stockler.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND CITY OF ALAMEDA

WORK STOPPED BY INSPECTOR

Building Authorities Prohibit Further Work on Shed Owned by Real Estate Man.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—Building Inspector Bull stopped work yesterday on the reconstruction of a small shed adjoining the Pink building on Center street, and owned by Lyman Allen, the real estate man. The shed formerly served as a bootblack stand and is declared by Bull to be a flagrant violation of the building ordinance. Allen claims that the law permits him to make repairs within $50 without securing a building permit. Bull maintains that the repairs are not permissible where they violate the fire limit clause, as in this instance. Several weeks ago Allen had an application before the trustees asking for permission to improve the shed adjoining the Pink building. The matter came up at a special meeting of the board and no action was taken. At the last regular meeting of the trustees the application was presented in regular form and was referred to the building inspector.

Despite the fact that Bull has not as yet reported on the application of Allen, the latter put the carpenters to work on the place after erecting a fence across the open space between the stand and another small shack formerly occupied by a shoemaker. This fence hid the workmen from the view of persons in the street and the repairs and additions were well under way when Inspector Bull made the discovery yesterday morning. He immediately informed Allen that the work would have to be discontinued under penalty of arrest and consulted with the Town Attorney. Allen said he would stop work on the addition but would continue with the repairs, but this also was ordered stopped. The real estate agent obeyed with some display of displeasure, and Inspector Bull placed the matter in the hands of the police with instructions to make arrests if work is again started. It is the intention of the trustees to rigidly enforce the building and fire limit ordinances and all matters pertaining to the same have been referred repeatedly to Inspector Bull, who so far has seen to it that the law is obeyed.

HE GETS SHORT SHRIFT EDITOR IS PILLORIED

MICAELA DE LA CUESTA.

MISS LOUISE MENEFEE.

"It's None of His Business" Say Co-Eds—"The Most Audacious Editorial Ever Written."

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—"Is the college girls' dignity jeopardized by the wearing of trousers and other male attire at the annual masquerade and the gym links of the women students?" This question is agitating the minds of California's chosen youth and maidhood at the institution of higher learning at Berkeley. The discussion as to the propriety of trousers for female wear at exclusively co-ed functions was started by an editorial yesterday morning in the student daily. The editor in a fine frenzy gilded the feminine members of the student body for so far forgetting their dignity and innate modesty as to appear at their functions in corduroy trousers, military trousers, football suits and full dress suits, borrowed from their male friends, and further amuse themselves by serpentine and lockstepping their way about the hall.

None of the college girls agree wholly with Alfred Fletcher, the writer of the editorial, but a number join with him in denouncing the practice of wearing trousers at the "links." Many of the girls indignantly deny that the actions of the co-eds at the "links" is at all undignified and insinuate or declare openly that it is none of Fletcher's business what they do. Miss Reba E. Galvin, president of the women's fencing club, declared that the editorial was the most ridiculous she ever read. She called the attention of Editor Fletcher to the appearance of the initiates as ballet girls at the annual running of the Skull and Key society, an honor organization open only to men, and says the contention of Fletcher that only the girls enjoyed wearing the clothing of the other sex is not borne out by the facts.

Miss Mary Blossom, a graduate student and a prominent Prytanean, expressed herself as follows: "This so-called co-eds of the Daily Californian is entirely uncalled for. The girls don't raise a hue and cry about the deplorable condition of some of the college men after their own justifications. If the girls want to dress in male attire it's their own affair, and that men, certainly, have nothing to do with it. Mr. Fletcher's business what the girls do in private. It is a matter that does not concern him at all."

Miss Gertrude Naeley says: "The girls could teach the men a lesson in good behavior. The editorial in the Californian is uncalled for and that's all I'll say."

Miss Micaela de la Cuesta, a member of the Kappa Gamma Society, says: "If the girls had done anything real naughty, the editor of the Californian might be justified in abusing us, but I consider the 'gym links' as entirely proper."

Miss Mary Robert Blossom, a graduate student and prominent in Prytanean circles, holds the following opinion: "That the Californian should always seem to me to be to be entirely unnecessary. The girls don't raise a hue and cry when they hear of the deplorable condition of some of the men after their justifications. If the girls want to dress in male attire it's their own affair, and that men, certainly, have nothing to do with it. Mr. Fletcher's business what the girls do in private. It is a matter that does not concern him at all."

own affair, and certainly the men have nothing to do with it."

Miss Marie W. Zanders, a junior in the college of letters, says: "They don't know what they are talking about. No man in the University has the slightest desire to don feminine attire. Indeed, I could see a more grotesque exhibition than that which is given by the Skull and Key. This talk is perfectly absurd and concerns the women alone."

Miss Irma Sparrell Bromley, a sophomore student, says: "I see no reason to object to the girls appearing in male attire at the masquerade, and I think the comment in the Californian was quite uncalled for. I personally would not borrow any clothes from my friends, but I think there is no reason why brother's corduroys should not be put to use. There was nothing on the behavior of the girls to call forth any criticism. It seems to me to be a case of no news and plenty of space, and the editor of the Californian took this means of filling the paper."

Miss Mona Skinner, a prominent senior, says: "Personally I would not dress in male attire, as I do not think it is modest. It seems to me that a few delinquent girls in dressing at masquerade balls in the guise of men, but these are not in the majority. Not more than a dozen girls that I have seen at links have put on men's trousers. If this is carried to extremes, as Mr. Fletcher states, it ought to be abolished."

Miss Isabel Reynolds, a member of the Mask and Dagger Club, says: "These gym links are the only affairs in which all the girls can participate. It makes no difference what the girls do in the presence of their own sex. Their femininity is always obvious, but it is the masquerade affairs are all intended to be a source of fun, and in a spirit of amusement the women students, but it is an entertainment. I do not think the article written by Fletcher will have any effect upon the women students, as they will teach them to think twice before they pose in men's clothes."

BOTTLED UP THE ORATIONS

Speedy Action of Board of Trustees Headed Off Protest to Telephone Franchise.

BERKELEY, Nov. 22.—Primed with speeches of protest, a large number of citizens appeared at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees last night for the purpose of their opposition to passing to print the franchise providing for another telephone system in Berkeley. But the sound of President Rickard's gavel calling the meeting to order had scarcely died away, when the ordinance was brought up and finally acted on before the citizens in the lobby were aware of what had taken place. Now that the ordinance has been passed to print, bids for a competing telephone system will be received at one of the meetings to be held in the near future. One of the bidders, for the privilege of conducting a competing system in this city will be the Home Telephone Company.

When the ordinance came up last night it was voted against by Trustees Ferrier and Hoff. Trustees Schad, Fawcett, Olsen and President Rickard were in favor of it. Trustee Connor is absent from the city.

At the outset Trustee Fawcett did not believe that a franchise should be granted for a term of more than thirty-five years, but he changed his mind at one of the subsequent meetings and agreed to franchises of fifty years duration. This change giving the trustees the power to regulate rates was not taken advantage of.

ADDITIONAL ACTION OF TRUSTEES

At the meeting of the Board last night the recommendation of Building Inspector Bull against allowing Lyman Allen to put up a "shack" on Center street was adopted. The petition of the Peralta Park Improvement Club to have a sidewalk laid on the west side of Fluerance avenue from Hopkins street to Corcoran street was referred to the street committee. The Superintendent of Streets was directed to have the wooden sidewalk on Grayson street between Sixth and Seventh streets repaired.

Congressman Knowland Leaves on Monday for the City of Washington.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Congressman J. R. Knowland, accompanied by Mrs. Knowland, will start for Washington on Monday morning to prepare for the session of Congress which opens in December.

The election of Congressman Knowland by such a large vote will do much to aid him in his work during the session. He will arrive in Washington with plenty of time to prepare for the work of the coming session. He will occupy the same quarters as in former years.

Although badly bruised about the head and left hip, the boy was able to walk home. Mrs. Simpson and L. A. Uhlig, who witnessed the accident, attempted to save Sterns before he fell under the wheel.

KICKS METER TO BITS JUST OUT OF SPITE

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 22.—An alleged defective gas meter was the cause of a burglary scare in the apartment house at 426 West Forty-seventh street, Manhattan. More than a dozen patrolmen, followed by a large crowd, went in search of the burglar. A few minutes after 1 o'clock in the morning Miss Annie Murphy, daughter of the late John Murphy, housewife, hurried into the West Forty-seventh street police station and told Sergeant Brady, who was on the desk, that she had been burgled. She stated that three burglars in the cellar of the house. Sergeant Brady sent a dozen half-dressed patrolmen, under Roundman Tunney, searched the cellar, but found nothing. Fearing that the burglar might escape, the patrolmen stationed several patrolmen in the yard of the house. Not finding anyone in the cellar, the patrolmen searched every room in the house, even going out upon the roof. But no trace of a burglar was found. Just when the excitement was beginning to abate and the patrolmen were breathing easy from their exertions, Meyer Goldblatt, who lives on the second floor of the house, asked what was the cause of the trouble. "There were no burglars," he cried, when he heard their story. It was L. I. who was used to decide that the gas meter was cheating him, and went into the cellar and tried to kick it to pieces."

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together

The following letter from a locality where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is well known shows by the unprecedented demand for it that the medicine sells on its own merits. Mr. Thomas George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many I have sold under guarantee, I can personally recommend this medicine, as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by Osmond Brothers, Broadway, corner of Smith, and Washington streets, New York.

engagement is announced here of Perry Mariett, a prominent young business man of Oakland, to Miss Lola Udall, an accomplished and attractive girl of this city.

The nuptials are to be celebrated shortly, the ceremony to be performed by the Baptist church by Rev. Leander Turney, the pastor. The bride-to-be is a member of the Santa Rosa orchestra, which was organized in connection with the religious services of the church, and is the fourth member to become a bride within the past few weeks. The girls fear these numerous deflections from their ranks will break up the orchestra.

SWEETHEART WAITS FOR HIM FOR FORTY YEARS

After Separation Man Selects Homestead In Wilderness and Is Now Wealthy.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 22.—A wedding of much importance in international church affairs was that of Miss Lulu M. Durham, secretary and treasurer of the Women's Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church of the United States, to Carl A. Starck, of Rogers, Ark.

The marriage was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Beeler, on Blackford avenue, in this city, the Rev. Thomas Ashburn, pastor of the Jefferson Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian church, officiating. Aside from the fact that the participants are both of much prominence, there is a love story connected with it that lifts it from the ordinary. The beginning of the romance dates back to the time when the bride and bridegroom were schoolmates together in Evansville.

As Mr. Starck expressed it after their marriage:

"I loved Lulu when she was but 6 years old; I was only ten, yet I loved her with all the ardor of my childhood and swore that some day she would be my bride."

After their graduation in school here nearly thirty years ago Mr. Starck sought his fortune in Golconda, Ill., and he and Miss Durham kept up a correspondence. Their letters breathed of love and the love affair assumed almost matrimonial proportions when suddenly a misunderstanding arose and an estrangement was brought about. The man left Evansville and the neighboring territory, and went to Arkansas to seek his fortune. He selected a government homestead of 160 acres, far from any railroad, in an unbroken timbered wilderness. The 160 acres soon grew into a 1300-acre plantation with modern improvements. The march of progress soon converted the wilderness into a well-settled, fruit-growing community with daily mails and trolley lines.

Mr. Starck's place, known as the Villola Fruit Ranch, is visited by thousands of sightseers annually and is an object lesson of what grit and the ability to hang on can accomplish. A widely-known health and pleasure resort finished a few years ago by W. H. (Cohn) Harvey adjoins Mr. Starck's ranch.

Miss Durham meanwhile became engaged in active church work and has been holding an important position in the Presbyterian church. She is one of the most popular women in the city.

Recently chance threw the lovers together again and the old attachment immediately reasserted itself.

At first, when he proposed, Miss Durham put him off and asked him to wait a year. He insisted and she finally gave in.

Mr. Starck is a man of literary attainments and is regarded as one of the leaders of his section. He is fifty-one years old, while the bride is forty-seven.

FASHION TO MAKE FAD OF HEAVY ADORNMENTS

From Head to Foot Women Will Now Be Clothed With More Weighty Wearing Apparel.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A course of double the circumference of the genuine fruit.

"Vells are following the fashion in hats. The minute chintilly spot is replaced by black velvet patches the size of a six-penny piece, and as for hatpins, I doubt if they can increase in size. Most of the latest patterns are adorned with knobs which would not make insignificant door handles."

MASSIVE JEWELS.

"The tendency in jewelry is to adopt distinctly exaggerated styles," a well-known jeweler in Regent street said. "Large Oriental rings, heavily studded with jewels, are in great demand. Drop earrings, which weigh down the lobes of the wearer's ear, are made in a most massive pattern."

"Jeweled muff chains can rightly be termed 'fashion's fetters.' The tiny beads or crystals between the links of the chain have been replaced by lumps of turquoise, opal or amethyst in the rough. Cable chain bracelets bear a close resemblance to handcuffs in their proportions."

"We have noticed several points which show how the Broodingman mania has affected drapery goods," the manager of an Oxford street firm said. "The tiny glove handkerchief is quite out of date, and has been replaced by silk and cambric of much larger proportions. In the haberdashery departments buttons resemble five-shilling pieces, made of paste, glass, silver or leather."

EXAGGERATION INCREASING.

A reporter who visited well-known firms to learn the extent of this craze for magnified adornments was met by the information that the demand for exaggeration is likely to increase.

"Picture hats are assuming the most extraordinary proportions," a Bond street milliner confessed, "but the most noticeable point is the gigantic shapes of the floral trimmings. A cabbage rose in pink velvet is becoming perilously near the size of a real cabbage. Bunches of grapes adorn the newest hats, each grape being about

QUEEN OF ROUMANIA TO SEND EMBASSY TO U. S.

"Carmen Sylva" Looks To America For Aid in Building "Blind City."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Frances Fearn, widow of a former American diplomat, will come to this country early in January as an emissary from Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, "Carmen Sylva," with whom she spent the summer.

Mrs. Fearn will bring plans of the Roumanian queen's "blind city," the little colony she has formed for the benefit of the blind of her country. Her emissary is conversant with the smallest details of the unique plan, that is apparently not designed to do away with institutions for the blind, but to place the unfortunates where they will have companionship, mutual interests, occupations, amusements and higher educational advantages.

Just what the queen's plans are for founding an American blind colony will probably not be thoroughly understood until the arrival of Mrs. Fearn, who will bring pictures, plans and stereoscopic views of what has been done in Roumania.

Mrs. Fearn spent many years abroad during the career of her late husband in the diplomatic service of the United States.

NO REST FOR SOCIETY.

With the departure of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt for Panama last Thursday, society might have imagined it was in for a three weeks' rest; but there are debutante presentations almost innumerable arranged for that period, and things promise to move along right merrily. The White House is socially closed, and for a time the little impromptu affairs Mrs. Roosevelt is wont to give will be missed from the calendar.

Theodore Roosevelt Jr. came home from Harvard last Monday and remained for a few days. He was indisposed at college, and ran over to Washington to pick up. Miss Ethel also lost several days from her school through illness, but few of the president's friends know that either of the younger members of the family were under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Roosevelt is manifestly not permitting her temporary mourning for her uncle to interfere materially with her social obligations. She attended the Boston Symphony concert on Tuesday afternoon, and on the previous evening entertained a small company at dinner. On Wednesday she held her usual weekly "cabinet meetings."

TWO NOTABLE WEDDINGS.

GETS ORDER TO GO TO WIFE'S FUNERAL

WOMAN'S BROTHER TRIES TO KEEP HUSBAND FROM VIEWING CORPSE.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22.—By mandate of Common Pleas Court No. 5, there will be one unwelcome mourner at the funeral of Mrs. Clara Lees, and that mourner will be the husband of the dead woman, James Lees.

Mrs. Lees died at the home of her sister, and the body was then taken to the home of a brother, George Rumford, where the funeral is to be held. When Lees called at the house Saturday night Rumford refused him admittance, would not allow him to look upon his dead wife's face and declared that he would not be permitted to attend the funeral or be present at the burial.

Judges Martin and Ralston ordered that he should not only be allowed to see the body, but that he should ride in the first carriage as the chief mourner. Lees said that he was married in 1886 and that he lived happily with his wife until a few months ago, when her brother induced her to leave him and go to the home of the sister. There is money back of the quarrel. Mrs. Lees had an estate worth $10,000, and her husband says that Rumford induced her to tear up a will in which she left everything to Lees, making a new will, in which he was cut off without a penny.

The dead wife had filed a suit for divorce, and the case was to have been tried next month.

owned and controlled by women, and that both are managed with great care and success. Mrs. Adair is a wholly different type of woman from Mrs. King. She is fond of society and travel. She spends several months each year in England. On her periodic visits to her ranch she brings with her large parties of Britishers. These visitors usually belong to the nobility, who find much pleasure in the wild ranch life.

There are something like 50,000 head of cattle on the Adair ranch, and annually about 10,000 calves are branded. The number of steers marked each year is between 6000 and 8000. The annual net profit of the ranch the last ten years has been more than $100,000.

The husband of Mrs. Adair bought the ranch twenty-five years ago at an average price of twenty cents an acre. At that time the land was considered practically worthless, even for grazing. Now the ranch is worth many million dollars. There is not an acre of this tract that would not bring an average of $10 per acre if placed on the market today.

Prosperous farmers now surround the big Adair ranch, but this vast estate is still held intact, and no effort is made to farm any part of it. The ranch house headquarters is a stone building, more representing an ancient castle in appearance than anything

WOMEN SAVE CHURCH CARPET

They Tear Up Floor Covering and Defy Trustees to Sell It.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—Because the United Evangelical church, at Carlyle avenue and Thirty-eighth street, S. W., is in debt, it has been decided to sell the building.

There was little objection to this, but when the trustees ordered the church members to leave all furnishings intact until a vote of church members could be had in regard to their disposal, twenty-four women, comprising the Ladies' Society, openly rebelled.

The society had given $100 worth of furnishings in carpets, rugs and curtains. Ignoring the trustees' order, the women met at the church today and tore up the rugs, carpets and curtains.

Scissors were used, and the carpet and rug fell into twenty-four sections, one for each of the society.

"These things belong to the members of the society," they said. "The idea of those trustees telling the society what it shall do with its own things. We'll show them."

MOTHER SLAYS BABES AND SELF

Police and ex-Husband Find Woman and Her Two Children Dead.

GENEVA, Nov. 22.—A tragic sequel to a divorce case took place at Blankenberg, in the canton of Berne, yesterday.

Five months ago a merchant of Cassel, Germany, named Schopfwinkel, secured a divorce from his wife, and was awarded the custody of his two children, aged four and five years respectively.

Before he could secure the children, however, the mother fled from Cassel, taking them with her. For five months Herr Schopfwinkel and a detective pursued her all over Germany and Switzerland, and at last found her living in apartments at Blankenberg.

When Schopfwinkel and the detective, accompanied by a local gendarme, entered her apartments yesterday morning they found Mme. Schopfwinkel and her two children lying in bed, shot through the heart.

Lying on the table was a note in which the wife declared that she was "as innocent of the charge against her as her babes." She had killed them, and then committed suicide.

Mrs. Adair is fond of the chase. She keeps on the ranch a stable of blooded horses and a large kennel of dogs. Wolf hunting is her favorite sport. Level courses seventy-five miles long stretch away from the ranch, unbroken by wire fences or other obstructions.

FORTUNE FOR HIM IF HE GETS DIVORCE

SEPARATION OR WIFE'S DEATH WILL BRING $200,000 TO HUSBAND.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22.—Karl F. Miller, of Pittsburgh, has been named residuary legatee to the estate of Anna M. Gunning, formerly of this city, on condition that he should not be living with Jane Wilson, whom he married in 1898, or that she be dead, or he be divorced from her. The estate is worth $200,000.

Miller and Miss Gunning were former lovers, but he left her for Jane Wilson, whom he married. He today told the court that he would not divorce his wife, but he lays claim to the major part of Miss Gunning's estate by a previous will, while other heirs are fighting to have the latest will declared valid.

After disposing of $58,000 worth of the estate, the will reads:

"The income of the balance to be given to Karl F. Miller, provided he is not living with the woman he married in 1898, one Jane Wilson. Should she die or he be divorced from her—that is, finally divorced—he is to be given absolutely one-half of the principal, and the interest of the other half as long as he lives. If he marries again, he can, by will, leave all to his second wife and children. If he dies unmarried a second time without children, the one-half of all his share is to be divided equally between the children of Wesley Green, Colbert Greer and John Blackford. In no case is the present wife of Karl F. Miller to benefit by anything I leave him, either in personal or real estate. Should any one contest this it is my earnest wish that they shall forfeit their share."

Miller, created a sensation in court today. Judge Miller asked:

"You are not divorced, Mr. Miller."

"I am not."

"Have you any divorce in contemplation?"

"Decidedly not."

"And your wife is not dead?"

"Happily, living."

As both sides have money, the contest is expected to be a stubborn one.

When Years of Litigation End Money Bequeathed Teacher Cannot Be Found.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—After fifteen long years of litigation, Mile. Tuffet, a humble school teacher, who was left $200,000 by her wealthy fiancée has won her case in the law courts, but when she went to claim her inheritance, which had been hidden in an old chateau, she discovered that the treasure had been stolen.

Such is the latest chapter of a romance in which cupidity and intrigue are strangely interwoven.

The story opens thirty years ago, at a time when Mme. Chatre, a poor, miserly old woman, lived in a lonely chateau in central France, her sole object in life being the hoarding of money, which she concealed in secret cupboards and mysterious hiding places.

Finally, for greater security, she mined beneath the chateau and in caverns, to which access was gained by trapdoors, and hid away her gold in jars.

Mme. Chatre had one son, Claude, who, when about twenty, fell in love with a prepossessing young lady, Mile. Tuffet, a school teacher.

The affection was reciprocated. Mme. Chatre at first looked favorably on the proposed match, but later withdrew her consent, as Mile. Tuffet had no fortune. The young people consoled themselves with the reflection that the "maniac of Laval," as neighbors called Mme. Chatre, was an octogenarian and could not live long, but Claude died first, leaving a will bequeathing everything to his fiancée.

When Mme. Chatre discovered this document she took counsel with the parish priest, and, it is alleged, burned it; but Sister Juvenal, who attended Claude on his deathbed, informed Mile. Tuffet.

Mme. Chatre, when appealed to, denied burning the will, and the clergy of the district, who hoped to benefit by Mme. Chatre's death, are reported to have supported her during the fifteen years' legal struggle for possession of the dead man's fortune.

Finally Mme. Chatre died, and yesterday the Lyons Appeal Court decided that Mile Tuffet was entitled to the $200,000 left her by Claude Chatre.

In the interval queer things have been happening at the old chateau. In one night $17,400 hidden under the kitchen sink disappeared. Other thefts followed, on one occasion $10,000 being taken, and when an examination of the old woman's hiding places was made, practically the whole of the immense treasure had vanished.

The affair is causing an enormous stir in the district, and sensational developments are expected.

SHE STABS THUG WITH HATPIN

Ruffian Breaks Shoulder Blade When Weakened Falls to Pavement.

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 22.—Attacked by a man in front of the Presbyterian church on Saginaw street late at night, Mrs. Luman Cronk used her hatpin to good advantage, stabbing her assailant several times.

Attracted by the commotion, Charles Walters arrived on the scene and threw the man on the pavement, breaking his shoulder blade and cutting open his scalp. Officers arrived before the man regained consciousness and he was removed to a physician's office, where his injuries were attended to. When he came out of his comatose condition he gave his name as George Welch.

MOTHER DIES ON CHILD'S GRAVE

Woman Visits Cemetery, 2 Miles Distant, Daily for Three Years.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Sylvia C. Minnis, of Plum township, died of a broken heart. Three years ago her daughter, Mrs. Anna Grove, met her death under unusual circumstances, and since she has been inconsolable.

Though the graveyard was two miles distant, she visited it several times a week. She went there this morning and placed a bouquet on the grave.

Two hours later she was found beside the grave unconscious. Friends removed her to her sister's home, where she died of a broken heart soon afterward, never having regained consciousness.

Let the Truth Appear.

Elihu Root, Secretary of State to Theodore Roosevelt, and chief of the President's political family, and E. H. Harriman, the personal representative of the associated capital invested in several systems of railroads, indulged in a passage at arms over the recent Congressional enactment known as the Interstate Commerce Commissioners bill.

The theater of this controversy was the floor of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress and Mr. Harriman was the aggressor.

In very truth, the railroad and the anti-railroad sentiments of the country confronted each other in the persons of the Secretary of State and the railroad president. It would have been expecting too much of human nature if the opportunity to cross swords had been omitted.

The incident and the arguments employed by the parties to this controversy marks out an easy line to the actual merit of the controversy between the President and the railroads of the country. Mr. Harriman pleaded for fewer restrictions, fewer regulative provisions and less governmental interference with the high prerogatives of the railroads of the country. Mr. Root replied that the railroads possessed already too much power over the fortunes and destinies of the shipper.

Mr. Harriman took occasion on the floor of the convention during its regular session to reply to Mr. Root and again make an appeal for the absolute independence of the railroads.

Divested of all diplomatic concealments, all sophistries, all special pleading, and the merits of this controversy are very easily resolved; left wholly to themselves the agencies of commerce are unfit to be trusted with the absolute and arbitrary control of the commercial destinies of the country. Either the railroads will control the public or the public must control the railroads. There is no gainsaying this axiom. Railroad tariffs have a more marked effect on the industrial and commercial destinies of the various communities than the impost duties levied by the government in the interest of revenue and protection. Left to themselves the railroads would determine arbitrarily the points at which production might flourish and the places wherein production should languish; and this determination would be made solely with reference to the interests of transportation; that is to say, the points of production would be so arranged as to enforce upon all production some contribution to the railroads in the way of freight earning.

It does not follow from these irrefragable truths that all regulative measures are wise. The legislative remedies applied may be arbitrary, exacting and injurious. If, as Mr. Harriman contends, the amendments to the Interstate Commerce bill will deny to the railroads a share of the prevailing prosperity of the times, then the legislation is wrong and it will not stand. All legislation is experimental, and in their incipient beginning the remedies of abuses and evils are often mistaken. If the provisions of the Interstate Commerce bill interfere unreasonably with the rights of the ownership of railroad property, it will be condemned by experience. There is no sentiment in this country which will support arbitrary, unjust, and, especially, confiscatory regulation.

What the country wants is to be protected against the over zeal of traffic managers, against unfair competition, against the abuses of private car lines and private terminal practices.

Railroads should not be permitted to arbitrarily determine where industries should flourish or where they should languish; while, on the other hand, the regulative measures which would constitute an unreasonable restraint upon the rights of ownership of railroad property or arbitrarily reduce the money-making capacity of the capital invested in them, would be confiscatory, tyrannous and wholly untenable. Enlightened public opinion will always array itself on the side of justice. Mr. Harriman and Mr. Root may spar with each other as champion gladiators of the two sides to the controversy, but what the country wants to know is, what is just, what is right, for justice and right alone will endure.

The American Federation of Labor has adopted a resolution favoring women suffrage. If the Federation will cease discrimination against women engaged in industrial pursuits it will confer a still greater favor on women.

In Los Angeles the mercury dropped nearly forty degrees in two days, an acrobatic feat that illustrates the versatility and variety of the Southern California climate. However, we hardly think the Los Angeles papers will boast of the samples of frenzied weather being turned out in their city. They will probably console the shivering Eastern tourists with the statement that the country north of Tehachapi is sheeted with snow.

Charley Shortridge has changed the San Jose Times from an evening to a morning paper, and announces that he has consecrated himself to the task of cleaning the Augean stables, to wit: knocking out the Hayes brothers politically. For the Messrs. Hayes he has coined the name Roulette Brothers—Red and Black—a rather humorous bit of malice. Still, it is not much more of a satire than Mr. Shortridge's devotion to pure politics. As we understand it, however, Mr. Shortridge principally objects to being ruled out of the game by men who profess to being extremely holy, but who play it with marked cards. His description of his adversaries reminds us of the Nevada parson who mumbled a prayer every time he rung in a cold deck at poker. We trust Shortridge will manage to keep his hand in politics even if he does not succeed in purifying the game.

Harper's Weekly has a good deal to learn about the Pacific Coast, its people and the springs of public sentiment out here. For example, it assumes that the popular demand for separate schools for Chinese and Japanese is merely an expression of hoodlum prejudice against Orientals. It is nothing of the sort, as the editor of the Weekly could readily ascertain if he would spend a fortnight in this State. The opposition to mixed schools is perhaps stronger among people who have little or no objection to Oriental immigration than among people opposed to the admission of Chinese and Japanese into this country. Generally speaking, people of wealth and refinement are more sensitive on the subject of mixing the races in the schools than others not so well circumstanced. The working people object to Orientals coming here because of repugnance to competing with them for wages and employment. No such motive governs the wealthier class. The hoodlum doesn't count in the matter. The objection to race mixture in the schools has its origin in the same feeling that impels the whites of the South to provide separate schools for colored children. In California, as in the Southern Atlantic States, this feeling pervades all classes and is shared in by fully ninety per cent of the people.

Clothes and Good Manners

The editor of the college daily at Berkeley is filled with manly indignation that the women students should make up as males in their jinks at Hearst Hall. He deems the practice immodest, and the manifestation of a morbid desire on the part of the women—he refers to them gallantly and fraternally as "co-eds"—to be men. To his mind it is impossible that every woman should not crave to be what he is. While he considers women have their uses and, possibly, a few charms, he feels it incumbent upon him to repel this incipient invasion of trousers. It is revolutionary and altogether unseemly to a mind accustomed to take the Piute Indian's estimate of womanhood as a true appraisalment.

This young cub lacks knowledge as well as manners. Before his beard is grown he thinks himself a better man than his mother; superior in mental endowments to his sister, and entirely above the female sex in general. He prides himself upon something that is neither a virtue nor an acquirement and over which he has no control. He believes a donkey in pantaloons a far nobler animal than a thoroughbred horse in pantalettes. The gray mare is not only the inferior beast, but scarcely a horse at all.

This engaging youth, who has perhaps reached the ripe age of twenty and whose education is so far advanced that he can smoke cigarettes without vomiting or drink five glasses of beer without falling asleep or shouting like a Comanche Indian, overlooks the fact that men are continually donning female apparel in stag festivities. Even in the cultured precincts of Berkeley it is a common practice. Why should not a few imitation cocks strut at a hen function? Perhaps the paraphernalia consecrated by custom to the male half of humanity was used to satirize the pranks and manners of prigs and editors of college journals. Probably the strutting, swelling and gobbling of the turkey cock were imitated for the amusement of the young ladies and not from feelings of admiration.

The editor of our university contemporary should cheer up. The girl students may occasionally don trousers, but there are some privileges of the male students they can never hope to enjoy. They cannot form booze gangs and make midnight hideous with their yells and boisterous conduct. They are debarred from advertising their wit and taste by writing lewd verses and filthy legends in places where nature compels attendance. They must refrain from hurling rotten vegetables and rotten verbiage at actors on the stage. In a word, they must behave like ladies, while not a few male students deem it beneath their dignity to behave like gentlemen. The co-eds can console themselves with the reflection that in putting on trousers occasionally to amuse themselves they are not inoculated with the blackguardism of the customary wearers of those garments; that a pair of imitation ears does not make an ass any more than a pair of pantaloons makes a gentleman.

WHAT IF THE SUMMER IS DEAD?

What if the summer be ended, dear heart?
What if the summer is dead?
E'en though the orchard be fading to gold
The harvest is here with gifts manifold
With the wealth which the fields late bespread—
What if the summer is dead?

What if the autumn is with us, dear heart?
What if the roses have fled?
Colors as varied as India's shawls
Are decking the aisles of the forest made halls,
Orange and russet brown, dappled in red,
What if the summer is dead?

What when the autumn is over, dear heart,
And rime winds rondo instead?
Stripping the bushes and boughs of their dress,
Leaving them bare 'neath the sky, comfortless—
Dark, knotted and gnarled, to shun or to dread
What when the autumn is dead?

Then winter will final the year, dear heart,
And spring days unclothe the bed,
Where snow sheet has hidden the mucid leaf.
God's rain will absterge all traces of grief.
And earth with new birth of splendor be spread;
Thus, when the winter is dead.

Then fairies that guard the flowers, dear heart,
And lend them tints cream or red—
Those fanciful people who live in the air,
And give to the stars and earth's beauties their care,
Will dew them again from afar overhead—
This, dear, when winter is dead.

When the seasons of life have ended, dear heart,
And we in the gloom pit are led,
Will that be the end? or is it a dream
Perfumed by Hope, that beyond Styx's stream
The paths are of gold and there angels tread?
No answers come from the dead.

Naught may man know of the morrow, dear heart,
Yet, list, till is severed life's thread,
Thro' every change of seasons to be—
Till breath shall cease thro' eternity,
I'll love you, true heart. What more may be said?
What, then, if summer is dead?

—S. W. DeLacy.

HEALTH BOARD AFTER BAKERS

Three Doctors Make Midnight Inspection—Shops Found Unsanitary

Many of the bakeries about the city were visited last night by a delegation from the Board of Health, consisting of Drs. Archibald, Sullivan and Dukes. The kitchens and baking departments were investigated and wherever they were found to be in an unsanitary condition the proprietors were given warning to have them cleaned up immediately, or they would be prosecuted. The raid was made about 12 o'clock and the doctors found that in many cases the sanitary conditions were poor.

MERCHANTS DISCUSS STATE NEEDS FROM CONGRESS

California Congressional Delegation and Various Commercial Bodies in Session.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The California Congressional delegation met the representatives of the commercial organizations from all parts of California yesterday to confer upon the needs of the people in the different sections of the State, and what should be urged upon Congress during the next session. Men representing the most important interests of the State assembled in the California building of the promotion committee, Union square, and told their representatives in the National Congress of the urgent needs of California. Rufus P. Jennings, chairman of the California Promotion committee, stated that the meeting was called by Senator Perkins, chairman of the Congressional delegation, at the request of the promotion committee, and asked Senator Perkins to preside over the deliberations. The Senator modestly declined the honor, and, in complimentary remarks, expressed a preference for Mr. H. De Young for that position. Mr. De Young was an enthusiastic supporter of the State's needs, and he had the chance to remonstrate. On assuming the chair Mr. De Young said in part:

I understand that our representatives in Congress have come here to meet the representatives of the different interests in California to ascertain what California wants and what it needs. We want everything we can obtain to assist in building up San Francisco and California. San Francisco is eager to secure the aid of the Government in obtaining building material to rebuild the burned city. The best way the government can encourage the rebuilding of this city is by remitting the duty on building material. We have passed through a great calamity the greatest in the history of the world. It is the duty of the United States to take charge of its people under such circumstances. It was a mistake to let the State take care of it. We did not need assistance. Since the government is responsible for that mistake it ought to aid us in securing building material free of duty, and relieve us from the extra cost of the duty. We are taking advantage of our predicament in charging exorbitant prices for the material we require. The government can and ought to assist this stricken city by remitting the duty on building material.

NEED IMPROVED HARBOR

Captain William H. Marston, president of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco said that what is needed is additional harbor facilities, and that the water front of Oakland should be improved in order to relieve the pressure on this side of the bay. He said that one vessel was waiting five days before a berth was secured at Oakland dock. The berth was needed for only one day. He said that he would like to see the creek dredged and made useful for docking purposes, but that Oakland was of much greater importance.

Mr. E. F. Hale, chairman of the harbor committee of the California Promotion Committee in response to a call to speak upon harbor improvements, said in part:

In my semi-annual meeting of the counties committee of the California Promotion Committee will be held in San Diego, commencing December 15, for the purpose of discussing the needs of harbors and rivers in California. Interested in harbors and rivers will be represented at that meeting by their ablest men, and shall then have the best opportunity of learning the actual wants and needs of all. After that meeting we shall compile the result of its deliberations in concise form to serve our representatives in Congress as suggestions of our needs and wants from one end of California to the other.

Being called upon as representing the Pacific Ocean Exposition Company to state what California would want from Congress for the proposed world exposition, he said:

"A bill was introduced by Congressman Kahn asking for an appropriation to aid in holding that exposition in San Francisco. It advertised the fact to the world that San Francisco was going to hold such a fair in 1913. Since that time San Francisco has passed through a terrible ordeal from which it is recovering with the most amazing speed. We can hardly realize the progress that is being made in construction in this city."

FOUR MILLIONS A MONTH.

"Architects thoroughly familiar with building operations assure me that $4,000,000 a month spent in building is a very conservative estimate. It is only in the early stages of rebuilding, just clearing away the debris. Compared with the progress made by other cities which have been visited by devastating fires we are doing so well as to astonish the whole world. He called upon Congressman Kahn to tell what he knew about the appropriation California asks for that exposition. Kahn said that he had been

THE WHOLE THING

That's the Way a Tennessee Man Looked at Coffee.

The following letter is so interesting and contains so much good hard sense about the coffee question, we publish it for our readers.

I laughed at the idea that coffee injured me notwithstanding the trembling hands, salivary, mucky complexion, the tired, listless feeling and aversion to mental or physical effort. Also the terrible moments in the night when my heart would palpitate so violently that it seemed each moment it would wear itself out and become forever still.

"When I married my coffee days came to an end—my good wife refused to serve it to me placing Postum on the table instead."

"This was done over my protest. I saw colored liquid with an insipid taste. But the cup she set before me was not so bad, and in a way I even enjoyed it. But we had not then fully learned how to make Postum properly—by long boiling."

"Then the results came. The old heaviness after meals no longer troubled me, the heart palpitation stopped. I found more enjoyment in out-of-doors exercise, and best of all, I found myself at the office getting through my work with an ease I had never known before."

"Many persons have spoken to me about Postum in such a way as to leave no doubt they do not know how to make it. You might as well set meat or vegetables on the back of the stove and let them steep, as to prepare Postum that way."

"I say to such, 'bowl it'—bowl it till it has a dark rich color and then you will have a beverage that will win and hold you." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the famous little book "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

asked by Rufus P. Jennings to use his best efforts to obtain an appropriation from Congress for a Pacific Ocean World exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1913, but that California must first vote an appropriation before Congress could act. When that was done the California delegation would do all in its power to help the measure through Congress. Concerning the creek, he said that the creek has twice been declared a non-navigable stream, and that declaration must be revoked before legislation could be secured by Congress.

Senator Perkins said it was of the greatest importance that Congress pass the American shipping bill, which would save to the nation $200,000,000 annually which goes to foreign vessels carrying American freight. He enumerated the appropriations made by Congress during the past six years for public improvements in California, which amounts to more than the same time to New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, each of which has a representation in Congress three or four times as large as that of California.

Senator Perkins also mentioned the interests of Santa Maria valley, San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara valleys urged the importance of the California water at Port Harford the main shipping point for oil which is fast assuming rank with the most important of California's industries. He cited the increase of manufacturing industries through the use of fuel oil being now used in 1500 manufacturing plants in the southern city giving employment to thousands of hands, and representing an investment of over $10,000,000. He predicted that within the near future the production of oil in California would increase from 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 barrels and increase manifold in all other directions. He said in Los Angeles the government would aid in improving shipping on this coast.

LIMITATION OF POWERS

Rufus P. Jennings expressed regret that the instructions to the government to the board of engineers of the United States Army appointed to examine the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Feather rivers and the Colorado and the Colorado engineers so closely as to leave no hope for relief from that source. Major W. W. Smith, a member of the board of examining engineers said that he and his colleagues were absolutely limited to the strict lines of their duty, and that suggestions must come to the government from the people. Upon the suggestion of Congressman McKimley it was agreed that full data of a water survey would be submitted to the California delegation, and the assurance was given that the delegation would work harmoniously to obtain what the people of California want.

Among the other speakers were the following: Lieutenant Governor Allen Anderson, president of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, Frank D. Ryan, State commissioner of public works, Edwin Stern, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Senator Frank McGowan, representing the Chamber of Commerce of Eureka, R. Porter Ashie, F. Marvin G. W. Owen, Isidor Jacobs, L. J. Evans of the Napa Chamber of Commerce, and Charles S. Jones of the Oakland Merchants Exchange. A resolution offered by E. F. Woodward, surveyor of the port of San Francisco was adopted urging Congress to appropriate at least $500,000 per annum for the improvement of the rivers and harbors of the United States, and that the commercial organizations of California use all possible means to assist the National Rivers and Harbors Commission in their work, and that California's representatives in Congress be requested to cooperate in that movement.

TO FIGHT FOR ANNEXATION

Elmhurst Citizens Organize and Listen to Very Strong Arguments

Citizens of Elmhurst have taken up the fight for annexation. Last evening an organization was formed at the office of J. O'Toole for the purpose of agitating the question, collecting data bearing on the matter which would help voters to decide intelligently for annexation and to arouse public interest to the importance of this election.

J. O'Toole was chosen chairman and D. E. Elvin secretary of the meeting. A general discussion of the points for and against annexation was then had. By request, J. B. Greenwood, secretary of the Central Annexation club of Fruitvale presented facts showing benefits to be derived from annexation, that needs in Elmhurst can be obtained in this way cheaper than in any other, and that it is the only logical way to take to heal off the incorporation of a small town in Fruitvale which is believed would be the worst thing that could possibly happen to Elmhurst.

Mr. Greenwood outlined the work of the Central Annexation club, work that has been done by the Chamber of Commerce of Oakland, and showed the wisdom of placing the boundary lines of the annexation district as they are described on the election proclamation.

Mr. Meyers, a leading merchant, Mr. O'Toole, Mr. Storrs of the Elmhurst Review and others also spoke on the subject, and stated that with the arguments so clear, Elmhurst would vote four to one for annexation as it would give them sewers at a minimum cost, a five cent car fare to Oakland heights and many other needed improvements.

A committee was appointed to arrange for a mass meeting and secure capable speakers to present the matter fully to the people. A committee on membership was also named consisting of Rev. J. P. Gerriore, William Beuse, S. Lawlor and J. Oestreich.

Improved Delivery Service

At last, we believe we are safe in promising you prompt delivery of your packages. This is no reflection on past efforts of the express companies who have in reality done wonderfully well considering the suddenness of the tremendous increase in the delivery business.

It takes time to get wagons and horses and organize a perfect delivery system—especially when every pound of horse flesh and every wheel is in demand.

But we have solved the problem, and though a Greater Oakland may, and will grow very much greater, our delivery system is such that it will be able to bear all the strain that can be put upon it without running any risk of breaking down.

And this is particularly pleasing news just as this time when the holiday business is getting brisker every day.

SPORTS FIGURE ON THOMAS' ABILITY

COMING THREE-CORNERED BOUT CREATES DEEP INTEREST.

Expert Gives His Views of the Contest Between One Native Son and Two Others.

BY W. W. NAUGHTON.

Joe Thomas, Al Neil and Frank McConnell are all in training for their three-cornered bout at Dreamland on the last night of the month. Thomas is at Shannon's sporting headquarters at San Rafael, and his prospective opponents are housed at Larkspur.

The somewhat unusual conditions of the event are causing considerable interest among spectators. Thomas has undertaken to stop Neil and McConnell in turn, ten rounds being set as the limit of each bout. The question involved seems to be, is one brand-named native son pugilist equal to two native sons who are slightly ring worm?

Al Neil, who a few years ago was a crackjack, is vain enough to think that he can take care of Thomas without any aid from McConnell. "I was looking for a match with him when the idea of sending him against me came up," said Al. "He gained a decision over me at Vallejo shortly after I returned from Australia and before I had properly gotten out of the sea out of my system. He didn't lay a glove on me for a dozen rounds, and as far as I could learn the referee stopped the contest because he thought I was tired."

"It's a fine thing to see a young fellow ambitious, but I guess Thomas has bitten off more than he can chew," said McConnell. "I would like to have him all to myself, but the matchmakers wanted a handicap event, and there you are."

Thomas has the privilege of naming the man he wants to box first on the all important night. According to hints dropped by Harry Foley, manager of Thomas, Joe will not make known his choice until shortly before ring time on the evening of the double-yoked event. Thomas will require that both McConnell and Neil be in battle trim at 9 o'clock and he will name the man he wants to tackle first.

Arguments are in progress now as to who the first choice will fall upon and the fact that everyone is to be kept guessing is lending a snap to the practice that is being indulged in.

One question which is being discussed is should Thomas box the harder man of the two first. Some of the wisest heads argue he should, as he will be fresher at the outset than he will later. Others think he should dispose of the one he considers the easiest mark first as by so doing he will be able to husband his strength for a whitening finish with opponent No. 2. Thomas has not decided himself on the point. Neither has he signified which he considers the more formidable adversary.

WINS BIG SUM ON A DREAM TIP

KENOSHA, Wis. Nov. 22.—There is one man in this city who believes in the efficacy of dreams, and that person is Dan Bailey. He is not exactly a sports, but he had the one best bet at Oakland yesterday, and it netted him $1200.

The tip that Bailey won on he got from a dream last Friday night. He dreamed that he was in the paddock of a big race course when a stable boy told him to bet on Chalk Hedrick. He had never heard of the horse, but on Tuesday morning he scanned the entries and found that the horse named in the dream was entered in the second race at Oakland.

Bailey sought his friends and from them he borrowed what money he could. He managed to raise $100 and put every cent on the horse of his dream. The horse won at odds of thirteen to one.

who writes long essays on the "edible fungi" should give us something on edible cocoa, for a change. Judged by the amount of poor chocolate on the market, there must be about a thousand varieties of inedible cocoa. A druggist once said to me, "Drugs are pure and yet inert." There is certainly a lot of inert chocolate and tea and coffee sold for the pure stuff, and it may be pure. Well, I go to Lehnhardt's for hot beverages. I know what I am going to get.

BRITONS HAVE GOOD METHOD TO BET

The present uncertainty in the betting situation at Bannings, is in the opinion of men, who are closely in touch with the jockey club, certain to bring about the introduction of the English system of wagering on eastern tracks next season.

While the English jockey club does not officially take any cognizance of betting, on satisfactory proof being offered that a man has defaulted in regard to betting transactions he may be warned off. It is very seldom nowadays that this drastic punishment is resorted to. Every bookmaker of any prominence in England, and nearly every bookmaker of horses, belongs to one of three big betting clubs, the Victoria, the Bannings, and the Albert, and disputes over wagers, or default in regard to them, is referred to the committees of those institutions, who adjudicate on the matter and if necessary punish an offender by expulsion.

The bulk of the betting transacted at Newmarket, and other English tracks, is done entirely on credit and on the bettor's reputation. The general public is not afforded any official protection in making wagers, but in spite of this it is an extremely rare occurrence when an English bookmaker defaults. A credit system of betting which prevails all over England is known as "starting price" betting, based on the odds at which the horse starts. There are hundreds of bookmakers, scattered over England, and tens of thousands of bettors. It is only when they receive too big an amount from their clients on one particular horse that the money is wired down to the ring at Newmarket, or elsewhere, and laid on there.

Satisfactory reference being furnished by the would-be bookmaker, he enjoys the credit from the bookmaker, who furnishes an account to his client every Monday morning and sends check or receives one. So popular is this system that many race-track wire their wagers away from the race track in preference to betting at the course. The starting price bookmaker, as a rule, accepts any marked half an hour before the race is scheduled to start. Many accept wire money five minutes prior to starting time.

Commissions are exacted at starting price and a commission who is well acquainted with the business can manage to have these placed all over England at a given moment. In this way a lot of the money won by John A. Drake, when Royal Flush won the Steward's cup at there.

Goodwood for him, was placed. The chessness with which telegraphing can be done in England adds this system considerably.

STANFORD TO HAVE NEW BLEACHERS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 22.—At a meeting of the board of control, which has charge of Stanford's athletic fields, plans were approved for the bleachers at the new track. Professor C. B. Wing of the civil engineering department, submitted the plans, which provide for fine, large bleachers, to be built in two sections. The total seating capacity will be 5000. Contracts for lumber will be let at once, and the work will be begun immediately. The board discussed widening Stanford field and the cost was estimated to be $7500. This will be a necessary of Rugby is played next year.

LIVELY LADS TO FIGHT FAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The question of the superiority between bantams Flinnigan and Carroll will come up for decision tomorrow night at the Sunset Athletic Club's boxing tourney in Dreamland. Each of these fast fighting youngsters has a big following in San Francisco, and arguments as to the merits of the midget pugilists are very frequent just at present.

Each is inclined to regard himself as a champion. Flinnigan cut a swath in bantam circles at the St. Louis fair boxing competitions, and Carroll took the highest honors among men of his weight at the Olympic Club tournament last spring.

Flinnigan is supposed to be a stiffer puncher than Carroll, and Carroll is regarded as a more scientific boxer than his rival. When the bantams met some weeks ago they boxed a draw. It is believed they will out loose in such a style tonight that a winner will be returned.

The program includes several contests, one of the most important of which will be a bout between Walter Stanton and Frank May.

LEWIS STATES HE IS NOT GUILTY

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 22.—Harry Lewis (Basternan) charged with the murder of Mike Ward, as the result of their boxing match last Thursday night, was arraigned in the Superior court today and pleaded not guilty. He was held under $10,000 bonds and expects to furnish the bail.

22 CHINESE GAMBLERS FORFEIT THEIR BAIL

Twenty-two Chinese gamblers forfeited their bail money in department two of the police court this morning. Chin Foo, Chew Jew and Wong Sing, gamekeepers, had deposited $25 bail each and the remainder $10 each.

BILLIARD PLAYERS A FUNNY BUNCH

Those billiard stars who are soon to gather in New York for another world championship battle are an interesting lot. Aside from the worry over the temperature of the ivory balls, the heat of the room and the tables, there are a thousand other little things that would set any other man of equally nervous temperament crazy in two days. A sure eye and hand are the chief requisites of a star billiard player, and yet Jake Schaefer's sight is wretched and his hands are broken and twisted by several accidents that have occurred. He is a man who is a wrecked and a host of other veteran giants of the green cloth cannot see to read without glasses, and some of the older men even don "specs" to look at an ordinary object. Yet not one of them use glasses in playing that game at which they won fame. Their eyes never fail them in playing a cue a fraction of a half's breadth. Then there is the other George Sutton, who plays a wonderful game, and yet has no arms at all, holding the cue between the two little stumps left him after both arms were lost in an accident. Take George Sutton, the other. He is awfully fat. In a championship the nervous tension and the steady work of leaning over the table never phase him, although he always loses many pounds in such a contest. George Sutton is troubled with billiard players' cramp. This is no joke. It's an affliction somewhat similar to writers' cramp and is generally recognized by billiard men. Fully three-fifths of the star billiard players suffer from it more or less. It is not a serious disorder if cared for. A nerve specialist easily cures it. It is simply the constant use of the same set of muscles. The nerves become overworked and refuse to respond to the brain. The mental anguish suffered by some of these men when they realize at the climax of a coming struggle that the cramp is coming over them is said to be horrible, pitched up to the high tension they usually are in.

ENGLAND FOOTBALL MAD

At a very low estimate it can be stated that in Great Britain 600,000 persons, varying in age from 10 to 40, turn out every Saturday afternoon to take part in soccer matches from September 1 to April 31, according to an English paper. The total number of fatal injuries received during the last twenty years can be comfortably counted up on the fingers of one hand.

The heavy total of twenty-two deaths in the intercollegiate style of football in America last season with its short period of only seven weeks, and the small number of players, is simply staggering in comparison. The attractiveness of the association game is shown by the immense sales, even in the severe winter months, that the chief matches draw. Toward the end of last September, in what in Liverpool is called the local football Derby, more than 52,000 paid admission.

In November, at the Northern Derby, fully 55,000 paid for admission. Before Christmas the 40,000 mark in league matches had been passed four times, and the 30,000 mark for fixtures on Saturday was sometimes three times of $0.00 up and six or seven of 20,000 and up occurring at different grounds on the same Saturday afternoon. Boxing day (day after Christmas) more than 150,000 attended the contests in the first league matches alone. That came the last Saturday or so in January, and with rain and fog prevailing at most places a total of 400,000 spectators attended at the thirty-two contests.

Not a week passed but the 30,000 mark was passed on one or more grounds. Then early in April came the grand soccer international Scotland vs. England, when the immense total of 108,000 paid for admission. The following Saturday at Chelsea, London, a match was played in the presence of fully 75,000 spectators. On the week following this came the final of the FA Cup, London, and although no local interest existed in the teams the attendance reached the high total of 75,000 actual paid admissions. This crowd, great as it was, did not reach the total of 110,812 paid admissions, the world's record for a crowd at any kind of a ball game.

MAYFIELD TO MEET THOMAS SOON

VALLEJO, Nov. 22.—Friends in this city of Frank Mayfield, the welterweight boxer, have received information that the Hoffman Athletic Club of Sacramento will give Mayfield a fight with Joe Thomas early in December. These boys met then both were amateurs and put up a slashing contest. The battle is to be for a guaranteed purse.

OUR TWENTY LEADING SIRS

Meddler is now beyond dispute the leading sire of this country for the year 1906, it being practically impossible to get the progeny of any other sire to even closely approach the combined winnings of his sons and daughters. Voter is second and solely because of the winnings of his two excellent two-year-old sons Ballot and Electioneer, and Filigrane's third is based almost exclusively on the earnings of Accountant. The two sires would make a sorry showing but for these three superior representatives of the breed. With many representatives contributing to the total standing of these stallions, twenty leading American stallions, together with the aggregate sums won by their progeny up to and including last Saturday, rank as follows:

INTERESTING FACTS

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child.

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claim then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmelsier, LaCrosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for 8 years, and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have had surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

The bride's gown was of cream chiffon satin made after the empire mode and trimmed in rare lace. A tulle veil with sprays of orange blossoms and a shower of roses completed the costume.

Stock Reducing Sale

MANY NEW AND WONDERFUL BARGAINS

This sale has been the biggest kind of a success. Business to date has almost doubled our greatest expectations. But we look for an even larger business during the balance of the sale. All the lines that weakened under the heavy selling have been strengthened—the lots closed out have been replaced with goods that we didn't intend to sell at cut prices—the bargains are every bit as extraordinary as those with which the sale started—and those who have already bought are now helping in the advertising by telling their friends and neighbors how much money they saved.

SWEPT AWAY AND DROWNED

Four Men Cling All Night to Crib Work; Help Cannot Reach Them.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 22.—Four men, who were caught by last night's storm on the crib work of the new breakwater at the entrance to Holland Harbor on Lake Michigan, were washed away by the waves and drowned.

The men could not gain the shore because of the immense sea. The life-saving crew attempted to aid them, but the waves were so high that no boat could live. Attempts were made to shoot a line to them, but the hurricane buried the line back.

When night closed the men were still clinging desperately to the crib work.

MRS. ALTGELD INVOKES LAW

Widow of Former Governor Sues for Possession of Chicago's Skyscraper.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The Record-Herald today says: Possession of one of the principal skyscraper office buildings in Chicago is the interests of Mrs. Emma Altgeld, widow of former Governor John P. Altgeld and, indirectly the memory of the former chief executive of Illinois are involved in litigation now pending in the Circuit Court which promises to become a cause celebre.

Through the pleadings already of record in the suit runs the story of the futile attempt of one man, who had won the highest honor in the gift of his State, to combat the combined influence of powerful interests in his fight to recoup his vanished fortune; of his steadfast adherence, at the cost of failure to regain his financial standing to the principles which had brought him absolute bankruptcy, and

Arrangements for the tenth annual Military Ball of Company N, First Regiment, League of the Cross Cadets, are almost complete and from the present outlook the members expect to have one of the most successful affairs of the season. The affair will take place Friday evening, November 23d, at Central Hall on Twelfth street. Fine music will be on hand to render selections for the order of dances. The following members are on the committee of arrangements: Lieutenant J. L. Flynn, chairman; Sergeant H. J. Pazarkey; Privates J. P. Martin, J. P. Flannery, E. E. Nicholas, G. L. Taylor, T. J. Clancy and J. P. Callaghan. The proceeds are for the uniform fund.

of his death at last with his estate wiped out, his home mortgaged and his widow dependent on the kindly offices of his friends to put her beyond absolute penury.

The sole legatee of the former Governor when he died, March 2, 1902, in Joliet, after he had addressed a meeting there, was his widow, and his only tangible inheritance was the equity in the stock which her husband had hypothecated in one last desperate effort to save his holdings. Ex-Governor Altgeld died, as far as known, absolutely without property, but after his death letters of administration were taken out by Quincy E. Browning, who had been associated with him in business indirectly.

CARPENTERS TO HOLD SMOKER

Five Hundred Workers Will Assemble to Discuss Formation of New Union.

The carpenters of Alameda county are to hold a smoker on next Monday evening at the local headquarters, corner of Twelfth and Webster streets, when it is expected they will discuss the formation of a new union. About 500 men are expected to be in attendance, and the evening promises to be an enjoyable one.

A program of songs and other music with a number of appropriate speeches will be presented, and refreshments will be provided. The growth of the Oakland branch of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners is the cause of the formation of the new branch, to be known as branch 2, and it is announced that already there are 100 applications on file for membership in the new organization. There are about 300 members in the old branch, and some of these may also unite with the new union, transferring their membership. The smoker is to be under the control of the management committee of the old union, of which George Laack is president, L. C. Carpenter, vice-president, C. K. Dempsey, secretary, J. M. Pointon, business agent, toforentitymehoch opens another house where the Heine Piano and the Heine Player may be heard. It is useless to comment on the merits of the Heine Piano. It is sufficient to say for the past twenty years the Heine Piano has been purchased by the people of the Pacific Coast in numbers over Five to One of any other make, and that after the recent disaster over Six Hundred of our customers came to us and placed orders for Heine Pianos, and that it is known that the Heine Piano Co. is the only concern on the Coast selling their own product from their own factory to the purchasers direct, in this way giving the purchaser from One to Two Hundred Dollars better value than it would be possible for them to get anywhere on this part of the globe. But the Heine Player Piano is a new instrument to the people of this community. This instrument, to say the least, is a marvel of the musical age. It is the first and only Piano with an automatic player on the inside of the case, with the aid of which anyone with the least musical composition can play in a manner as to render the greatest compositions, so as to surpass the playing of an artist. You can play one note soft as a whisper and the next one louder than anyone with their fingers. You can shade every note, you can play your accompaniments as they should be played, soft and with a legato style, no matter whether in the bass or treble.

Call at any one of the following local stores and hear this marvelous instrument. If you can afford it you will immediately place an order. The price has been reduced for introductory purposes on a small number of these instruments, and even if you have an old piano or have just purchased a new piano, we will take the same in exchange, allowing you full value toward one of these HEINE PLAYER PIANOS.

FRUIT INDUSTRY OF STATE SHOWS ENORMOUS GROWTH Harriman's Traffic Director Tells of New Equipment and Progress of the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—First Assistant Traffic Director E. O. McCormick of the Harriman lines arrived in this city yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles. It is three years since he visited San Francisco and he observed with a smile that he saw great changes here. McCormick for the past three weeks has been in the metropolitan of southern California. He went to the Angeles City to familiarize himself with the business of the citrus fruit industry and also to make the necessary arrangements for the transfer of the fruit to the coast. This is an expensive undertaking, for it means that the Southern Pacific will handle the orange and lemon crop hereafter.

Heretofore the citrus fruit business of southern California has been hampered by private concerns, who made the deals with the growers relative to the transportation of their crops and the business will be done in future by the Southern Pacific company. McCormick has been over the ground with C. M. Harriman, who has been appointed the general manager of the Harriman car refrigerator service.

EXCELLENT CAR SERVICE.
"Mr. Harriman," McCormick, "has given orders for 5000 refrigerator cars, of which 500 are to be delivered on December 1 and the balance at the rate of 100 a month, commencing January."

"These cars are to be much larger than those now in use. The outside length is 44 feet in length and 8 feet 6 inches in height the cars will be 7 feet 6 inches wide with a width of 8 feet 6 inches. The available cubic capacity is 2100 cubic feet, holding 50,000 pounds. The cars can carry 11,000 pounds of fruit, the entire weight of each car is 38,000."

"As compared with the old fruit growers express cars these new cars are 2 feet wider and have nearly 200 cubic feet more available space," continued McCormick. "They also will have one ton more capacity for icing. The cost of the 5000 refrigerator cars ordered will be $3,000,000."

GROWTH OF INDUSTRY.
"The fruit industry is growing in California, and it is astonishing when the figures are considered. Judging from what has been done in the past few years and the increased number of fruit that have been sent out of the Golden State from year to year, one would be inclined to believe that the horticultural industry of California was in its infancy."

"My visit to Los Angeles was for a dual purpose. One was to see and the other to make arrangements for the business of the fruit business. I can say with confidence that the service will be good and that in the future we have an excellent manager."

"It is the custom to ask when a man is interviewed whether he sees any changes," said McCormick. "You can say in the call that I do see a great change in your city but there is on every hand an aspect of health and vitality. Indeed, you are a city of strong young men, and I doubt if there is any salaried man that could do more for the state than you are."

"There is an enormous travel to the southern part of this state, and there is a building up of the state. The state that does not say it is his or her intention to visit San Francisco. This desire to see this city shows that a spur upon your people to hasten the completion of hotels, so as to accommodate the travel."

WILL IMPROVE SYSTEM.
"I am not in a position to speak as to other improvements contemplated by Mr. Harriman, but I can say that it is the intention of our people to give the Pacific coast the best service that is possible and to make such improvements as are needed. A great deal of work in the way of improving and adding to the system is now under way, and more new work will be undertaken when the necessary money is available."

"The Pacific coast is attracting the attention of the moneyed people in the East, and your progress is being watched with a great deal of curiosity."

"This means that capital is going to be attracted to California. The state is building up fast, and I was amazed at what I saw in southern California. Everything looks prosperous there, and shows every indication that a record-breaking business will be done from the East to the coast in the way of citrus fruit shipments."

"I am sorry that my engagements necessitate my departure from this city next Saturday morning. I have to be in Chicago to take part in an important conference, and so have to leave at an early hour."

"McCormick came to the city with General Passenger Agent James Horburgh Jr. and was met at the depot by Passenger Traffic Manager C. B. Poe and Freight Traffic Manager H. A. Jones. On arriving at the ferry building he was once called upon Attorney W. F. Earle."

NINETY-EIGHT ARE PULLED IN
Mastodon Raid on Chinese Fan Tan Joint Has Fruitful Results—Bail Forfeited.

Ninety-eight Chinese gamblers were arrested last night by Acting Sergeant Brown and Police Officer Keefe during a raid on a gambling den at 863 Webster street. The prisoners deposited bail for their release, aggregating $1075, which was forfeited this morning in department one of the superior court. Seven of the Chinese, Wong Ying, Ah Tom, Ah Ching Sing, Ah Pow, Ah Yung, Ah Gee and Ah Chang, were charged with being gamekeepers and had to furnish $20 bail each. The remaining ninety-two were deposited $10 each.

The two arresting officers stood outside of the den and hearing the rattle of chips and the clink of money, broke in and placed the prisoners in the police vans. The gamblers under arrest many of the Celestials endeavored to escape through blind doors, but they found that they were surrounded and submitted to arrest. It required several trips to carry all the prisoners to the city prison.

This morning Attorney Richardson appeared in Judge Smith's court, representing Snook & Church and asked that the cases go over until tomorrow. The bail had already been forfeited but the court stated that he would set aside the forfeiture order tomorrow, if good cause was shown.

PATRICK'S FRIENDS DECIDE TO DESIST
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—It was stated yesterday that the friends of Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer convicted of the murder of William Marsh Rice, have decided to desist in their efforts to bring the case before the Supreme Court of the United States.

None of the lawyers who have acted for Patrick in his various proceedings, would say anything about the new move. Mr. Kalleh of Landay, Kalleh & Palmer, who have been preparing Patrick's appeal, said: "We have been preparing the appeal right along and have been in conference with the district attorney's office daily. That is all I care to say about it."

NEW PLAY OF COLLEGE LIFE

"Strongheart," Robert Edeson's Latest Success, Coming to the Macdonough.

Robert Edeson, whose popularity in "Soldiers of Fortune" and "Ransom's Rolly" has made his annual visits to every city an event of interest to theatergoers, will be seen here at the Macdonough next week in his latest success, "Strongheart," a new play of college life, by William C. De Mille.

As Strongheart, Mr. Edeson will be seen in a role unlike any in which he has previously appeared; in fact, this is the first part in which a college-bred Indian has been selected as the dominant figure of a drama. The author has selected an equally unusual environment for his four acts, Columbia University. He has pictured college life as we know it today, replete with bubbling over of enthusiasm, tender with sentiment. He has introduced an excitingly dramatic episode in the play, a football game the result of which forms an important part in the development of the story.

Mr. Edeson, with a carefully selected company and an elaborate scenic equipment, will present "Strongheart" primarily as given at the Hudson and Savoy theaters in New York, and in other large Eastern cities. Seats now on sale.

"IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE."
At the Macdonough theater last night another large house witnessed that charming young actress, Miss Jessie Burroughs, in the play "In the Bishop's Carriage." One cannot say enough in regard to Miss Burroughs' acting, and the rest of the company give her excellent support. Byron Douglas makes an excellent Latimer, and James Keane is perfect as Tom Dorgan. The scenery is the best we have had out here for many a day, and all in all it is a great performance. "In the Bishop's Carriage" will be at the Macdonough theater all this week, with a matinee Saturday and Sunday.

THE NOVELTY THEATER.
The Novelty theater this week is packing "em to the doors at every performance and pleasing the audience immensely with the vaudeville offering presented there. Of course the big feature is the mysterious Gaudea Humanum, the mechanical figures that really is mechanical and performs like a human being. It is certainly a wonderful invention and one that will interest and mystify everyone that sees it. That great act, "The Expressman," and those two great performers, present it. Armand and Holly, are creating no end of laughter with their merry wit and well put comedy. Their act alone is well worth the price of admission charged. The balance of the bill with Summers and Mulaney, "The White and the Black Man," in black and white who present a really clever singing, dancing and gagging act, that takes immensely well with the audience, and a quartet of singers and comedians who have to respond to many encores, and two new reels of motion pictures complete an excellent variety of vaudeville that makes up a show that goes off with a snap and meets with the approval of all those who attend.

The Necessity for Giving It:

Owing to the fact that we sell more high-class pianos than any house on the Pacific Coast, and from all indications there is going to be a great demand for this class of goods, we have ordered very heavily in all of our finest grades. The following shipments just received

ONE CAR LOAD KNABE PIANOS
ONE CAR LOAD CONOVER PIANOS
ONE CAR LOAD LUDWIG PIANOS
ONE CAR LOAD HARDMAN PIANOS
ONE CAR LOAD OF HARRINGTON & HARDMAN AUTOTONES
ONE MIXED CAR PACKARD, MASON & HAMLIN PIANOS
ONE MIXED CAR OF KINGSBURY AND PRICE & TEEPLE PIANOS

We are compelled to make room for these goods. We don't claim that we are going to give you a piano for the taking away, nor do we agree to cut our prices two or three hundred dollars on a piano as we do not mark our goods for that purpose every piano being marked at cash values, and owing to the fact that we are over-stocked with medium priced goods we are going to offer a discount from 10 to 15 per cent on most of our medium grade lines. This discount, when being made by the Wiley B. Allen Co., will mean more to you as a purchaser than a 50 per cent discount from some 'houses, who mark their goods with the intention of cutting their price half in two to every purchaser. Now, bear in mind that in addition to the factory guarantee is the Wiley B. Allen Co. guarantee which means that if you are not satisfied with any piano purchased at this sale, you can exchange the same any time within three years for any piano of higher grade carried by us and the full purchase price will be applied. We have just completed new salesrooms for our highest grade goods which gives us the advantage of carrying the largest assortment of fine grands and uprights ever on display in Oakland. The following is a list of slightly used pianos, which we will sell at far below their real values, considering their grade

One $275 Sleicher	$195
One fine Ludwig	$335
One $300 Best Heine	$150
One $325 Smith & Barnes	$265
One $275 Thayer	$200

Many others which this space will not permit us to mention.

BIGAMY CHARGE BY WIFE NO. 1

Wife No. 2 Stands by W. H. Williams in City Jail—Woman Loyal

WILBUR E. WILLIAMS is still locked up in a cell in the city prison, while the authorities are investigating the accusations of Mrs. Roba Williams, of 1015 Central avenue, Alameda, who declares that the prisoner committed bigamy by marrying Miss Frances Harriett Minnaker, of Redwood City, despite the fact that he already was her husband. Williams maintains his innocence, declaring that he was never married to his fair accuser.

Mrs. Williams, who, according to allegations is wife No. 1, went to Redwood City this morning in company with Constable Minnaker, the father of Mrs. Williams No. 2, the girl wife who asserts that she will remain faithful to her husband. An effort will be made by Mrs. Williams No. 1 to secure a warrant in Redwood City charging her alleged husband with bigamy. She declares that she can present evidence of her marriage to Williams January 2, 1904, in Hanford, Cal. Mrs. Williams states that Williams has the marriage license. Her story was given somewhat of a setback yesterday afternoon, however, when Acting Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto telephoned to Hanford, and upon asking for information relative to the marriage, was told that there was nothing on the records to show it.

During her absence in San Mateo county, the two children of Mrs. Williams No. 1 whom she says are Williams children, will remain at the home of the prisoner's parents, where they have been for some time. If Williams story is true that he was not married to Mrs. Roba Williams, the belief that she was his wife as he has been fooling his parents into the belief that she was his wife, as she has been staying at their home. It is said that the elder Williams are in sympathy with the pretty young woman and are assisting her in her endeavor to prove that Williams has played her false.

This morning Chief of Police Wilson had Williams into his office for Mrs. Williams No. 1 to identify him. This she did, but Williams stoutly declared that he had never married her. He was asked if he had ever gone through any mock marriage ceremony that would lead the young woman to believe that she was his wife but this he also denied.

Mrs. Williams No. 2 is still in this city staying with friends. She declares that she will remain loyal to her husband of a few days, but is on the brink of uncertainty as to what course to pursue in the matter.

at a rat which attracts wide attention, but so far it has had little effect on the financial situation, for the reason that low-priced stocks require much less money to handle than the speculation in this line, in spite of its activity, has not yet reached the same proportions. The speculative spirit, however, is thoroughly aroused and having spent much of its money on the railroads, is turning its attention to other fields.

General trade continues very active. Perhaps the most striking feature in all departments is the comparative scarcity of goods, crude or finished. In the iron trade there is no abatement of recent activity. Railroads, which always the heaviest consumers of iron and steel, are still in the market for large quantities of rolling stock for their rails. Mr. Hill, whose experience and sagacity are beyond question, has stated that the nation's traffic has increased 110 per cent during the last ten years, while the mileage has increased only 20 per cent. Since sagacity are beyond question, regard to its mileage, but rather by the number of tons which it can handle over a given distance, it does not follow that the mileage should increase in the same proportion as traffic. Nevertheless, it is quite evident that the development of railroad facilities during the last few years has not kept

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Enrico Caruso, the tenor who is charged with slaying a woman and the monkey house in Central Park, will appear again in court at 2 o'clock today, when the hearing in his case is scheduled to continue. It is possible that a postponement will occur, as Deputy Police Commissioner Mathow, who is presiding over the case, has said that the police department may not be able to attend because of his department duties. The case has developed into a fight between the police department, which is upholding the action of Police Commissioner McGraw, and Caruso and his friends. The latter have intimated that motives other than the subservience of law and justice prompted the arrest of Caruso, but they are bent upon proving vigorously every day and they are bending every effort to prove the charges against the tenor.

Caruso stood the scrutiny for nearly two hours before the jury yesterday, while more than 800 curious people crowded the place to listen to the testimony.

"Mrs. Graham," who made the original complaint that Caruso annoyed her by singing in Central Park, was examined by both the prosecution and defense has failed to reveal her whereabouts, and it is not thought likely now that she will appear in the case at all.

The witness testified that he witnessed the offense, testified to the facts, and Jeremiah McCarthy, a visitor in the park during the alleged occurrence, corroborated the officer's statements.

Caruso took the stand in his own defense and entered vigorous denial of the charges. His examination was not concluded when an adjournment was taken until today.

A dense crowd of Caruso's fellow countrymen in court, and they gave him a salvo of "Viva Caruso!"

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Del Rio says Pedro T. Gonzales, Democratic Castro and W. Marquez, Mexican newspaper men, were arrested there yesterday by United States marshals, at the request of the Mexican government. Marquez is a cartoonist and is being held by the United States President Diaz. They will be brought here tomorrow before the United States commissioner.

Six other Mexicans were brought here from Del Rio yesterday morning by officers. They are charged with having been in the raid made on Jimine, Coahuila, September 6.

Dr. Devine Had Every Opportunity to Know Truth—Has Faith in Mayor's Administration of Fund.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Dr. Edwin A. Devine, who, as special representative of the Red Cross, had supervision of the relief work of the association at San Francisco following the earthquake disaster, declared before the New York State branch of the Red Cross that, while mistakes might have been made in the distribution of the relief funds, there was no "graft" there. Dr. Devine took occasion to refer to the indictments recently returned by a grand jury against Mayor Schmitt of San Francisco growing out of the investigation of municipal affairs, saying:

"There is one person, at least, one who has had every opportunity to know the truth, who does not believe that the Mayor of San Francisco has stolen a single penny of the relief fund."

It was at the annual meeting of the New York Red Cross that Dr. Devine reviewed the work done by the national organization in behalf of the sufferers from the earthquake and fire.

The relief fund, he said, reached the total of $13,000,000, of which $9,000,000 was distributed in cash to the general relief fund, $2,500,000 by the federal government and the rest by independent organization and individuals, who expended the money independently. He referred to the incorporation of the California Relief and Red Cross Fund for the expenditure of the $4,000,000 balance which will be used in rehabilitation.

Of this it was agreed that the following expenditures should be made: $500,000 for the relief of refugees; $500,000 for the establishment of the homeless in new homes; $500,000 for the aid of small enterprises, tradesmen and mechanics, this being the balance forwarded by the New York Chamber of Commerce; $500,000 for the erection of small cottages for refugees still living in tents; and $1,000,000 to aid sufferers in building new homes, the last one-third of the cost being paid out of the fund.

He said that 17,000 persons were still practically living in tents or temporary shelters, while 28,000 additional were inadequately housed, 40,000 in all to be looked after.

Dr. Devine, referring to the final amalgamation of the various relief committees, said:

"In laying aside their bitter factional difficulties they gave an example of forbearance that should last as long as the story of the San Francisco disaster."

"We do not claim that all of the refugees were treated alike, or that some of them may not have suffered at the expense of others, but I can say to you that none of the people suffered for the necessities of life. There was none who was not supplied with food, clothing, bedding and shelter, all that was absolutely necessary. You have read the contrary, but it was not true."

"I challenge anyone to prove that they were not supplied with the necessities of life. They did not die of exposure, starvation or neglect. They became ill, but these things could not have been if they had suffered as some one represented that they had. There was no stealing or graft that could be prevented."

"I do not say that some shoes or clothing or some other things may not have gone astray; that some one may not have got them other than those who should have, but there was no waste or graft due to incompetence or neglect."

Jacob Schiff, the treasurer, reported that the receipts for the year, including dues and a small balance, amounted to $1,123,464; of this amount $19,121 was contributed to the Japanese famine fund.

William Carr Sanger, who presided, was elected president; Ellhu Root, first vice-president; J. M. Adams, second vice-president; Mrs. William K. Draper, secretary; Jacob Schiff, treasurer.

BUREAU CHIEF HONORS YALE

Member of the Geological Survey Receives Ring of California Gold.

Charles G. Yale of the United States Geological Survey, has received a keepsake from David S. Day, chief of the Bureau of Mining and Mineral Resources, that he prizes highly. It is certainly an unique and appropriate gift, in view of Mr. Yale's long connection with the mining industry in the Pacific Coast.

The token is a ring of California gold, set round with seven California precious stones, red spinel, olivine, beryl, topaz, amethyst, kenzite, tourmaline. The varied colors of the polished stones make a brilliant show in the setting of dull gold. Mr. Yale exhibits with pardonable pride to his friends as a flattering token of the esteem of his chief in the mineral division of the Geological Survey.

Mr. Day had the ring made to order by Tiffany & Co., the celebrated New York jeweler, as a keepsake to Mr. Yale, who has rendered the government valuable service in collecting information regarding the mineral resources of the Pacific States and Territories. Mr. Yale was for many years editor of the Mining and Scientific Press and was for several years statistician of the Mint, later becoming connected with the mineral division of the Geological Survey. He is a regular contributor to a number of mining and scientific periodicals.

Rialto merchants are raising a howl because many of the residents of that town go to outside towns to do their trading. A movement has been started to encourage home trading.

HAT SHOT OFF BY A VETERAN

Aged ex-Soldier Is Charged With Assault With a Deadly Weapon.

NAPA, Cal., Nov. 22.—Henry Smyth, an aged veteran, was brought down from Yountville this morning and lodged in the county jail on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. A warrant was sworn to by Charles H. Bell, the man assaulted, before Justice J. M. Palmer. Tuesday evening Bell and several other inmates of the Veterans' Home were hearing talking, when they suddenly heard a pistol shot and a bullet whizzed past them. Another shot immediately followed and Bell's hat was knocked from his head with a bullet hole through it. Smyth is quite old and rather feeble in mind and it is thought a sudden fit of anger may have caused the assault, though the attack upon Bell was without provocation.

Cooks' and Waiters' Association Want Lea to Hire Union Men.

A boycott has been declared against the business of F. J. Lea, known as Lea's Old English Inn, by the Cooks' and Waiters' Association of Oakland, it being alleged that Mr. Lea refuses to compel his employees to join the union. Mr. Lea's reasons for refusing to grant the demands of the union are these:

"That on the grounds that it is unconstitutional to force any United States citizen, or otherwise, to join any union, organization with the penalty that if he does not, he is deprived of a livelihood. I am paying a higher schedule of wages than the union, have always done so, and will continue to do so. HINT ON RATES IS SENT OUT

Interstate Commission Notify Railroads Concerning Charges.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—In its last circular, issued yesterday the Interstate Commerce Commission has given the railroads an important hint on through rates. The circular modifies to an extent the order issued October 12, in which permission was given the railroads to reduce, on a single day's notice, the through rates where they are greater than the sums of the local rates. Shippers set up a cry against this, and said it did not afford them any relief in such cases, adding that the commission should decide the sums of the local to be the through rates in such cases.

The commission now states that it has no power to fix such a rule, except on complaint, but the railroads are warned that on such cases being brought to its attention, it will regard the sums of the local as prima facie evidence that the through rate is excessive and unreasonable.

The circular also places the approval of the commission on the issuance of free transportation to caretakers of livestock and fruit, and declares that the term "fruit" will be taken to include all classes of vegetables and perishable products which need such caretakers en route. It also says transportation may be given for such caretakers to return to their homes.
